Reminder: As of October 5, 2026, the Small Business Nutrition Labeling Exemption (SBNLE) application is available through FDA Industry Systems (FIS)

As of October 5, 2026, the SBNLE application is available on the FDA Industry Systems webpage. All future web-based SBNLE submissions must be made through FIS.

How does this affect me?

As an SBNLE user, you must now use FIS to submit all future SBNLE web-based submissions for your organization.

If you have already logged into the FIS and using SBNLE application for web-based submissions for your organization, NO ACTION is required.

Post-Migration Next Steps

To begin submitting an SBNLE for your organization, complete the steps below and verify that your account and migrated information are accessible in FIS.

Active Users: If you were an active user as of October 2, 2026, your SBNLE account is now active in FIS.

1. Log in to FIS using the credentials you received by email. Please check email you received on October 4 or 5, 2026 regarding the account migration.
2. Update your account information and change your password when prompted.
3. Review the SBNLE User Manual for instructions on submitting an SBNLE through FIS.
